

Jim Campbell

Jim studied for a BA Hons in International Marketing at Strathclyde University and an MBA in Management at City University. He has held several international Sales & Marketing roles with Automotive OEMs and is founder of Sutherland Campbell International. He set up and launched the UK's innovation hub and testbed for Connected & Autonomous Vehicles. Jim is currently working with technology companies for the European Innovation Council.